Boiled Fish Sandwiches, You may find it hard to believe that sandwiches werde from boiled fish are good, but if when you have a bit of boiled habitat left from dinner you make a few for luncheon or tea you will find Chem very good. The fish should of course have the flavor that comes from boiling it in salted water with a boaquet of vegetables --- say a slice of onion, a stalk of colery or a sprig of muraley and half a denen peppercorns. Break up the fish with a feel; then take a wooden spoon and rub it as fine as possible. Make it into a seasoned puste by adding a fourth of a pint of sweet cream, a teaspoonful of suit, a sulfepoorful of white pepper or paprilm, and at the very last and gradually a tablespoorful of lemon juice. This concent of seconding is for 11/4 pounds of fish. Cut your bread very thin, spread the elices with a little butter and then with the fish. Lay between the slices before parting the two togeth-York Post.

tions quite pointedly the possibility of such solution. We are very sheep in our gregarious ness of error. When one bold or stupid mutton takes a leap, all leap after him. It is care to find men doubting facts, still raper to find them doubting whether the facts be correctly co-ordinated. Cur books are crossiced with unexamined statements, which we never think of examining. Do we not all believe that the magnificent Cleopatra, regardless of expense, dissolved in her wine cup a pearl of great price as if it had been a lump of sugar? Is not the "fact" familiar to every one? Yet, if you test it, you will find the fact to be that pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar attacks them but very slowly and never matter remains behind in the shape of First-Class Accommodations for families a spongy mass larger than the original pearl. - Youth's Companion.

Senator Peifer of Kansa, proposed an amendment to the woolen schedule of the tariff bill, by which the duty on unwashed wool would b. five and sixtenths cents per pound. This amendment was defeated and wool was kept upon the free list as agreed upon by the Finance Committee. Peffer then proposed another amendment to transfer all manufactures composed wholly or in part of wool to the free list. This amendment was also defeated, Democrats and Republicans, with the exception of Hansborough of North Dakota, voting against it.

CARSON SCHOOL ELECTION.

What "Deacon" Says About It. Carson, June 15, 1894.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Since the election of the School Trustees for Ormsbv county the straight-outs have been flattering themselves that the outcome of same election is certain proof that the G. O P. will carry the county in spite of the opposition, but by close observation I cannot realize that it cuts any figure as to future political contingencies True, heavy work was performed and a stranger within our gates might have imagined that he had incidentally dropped in at Nevada's Capital on the day of a general election, for the reason that carriages were running to the polling places from noon tide to eve, and all, without regard to registration, age or nativity were voted. The fact of the matter is, that the majority of our people realize the necessity of securing proper men _ sectarianism nor politics should be considered in the election of Trustees and realizing the efficiency and independence of the gentlemen elected, ignored politics and so voted independently

THOS. E. HAYDON,

When You've Lost Your Corkscrew. I have often been on a fishing expedition and found myself without a corkscrew, with a bottle of wine or ale se curely corked. The primitive plan of breaking off the neck with a piece of rock is very dangerous and sometimes cracks the entire bottle and wastes the precious fluid. The other day I saw a number of bricklayers trying to open a bottle of ale at the dinner hour. After bottle of ale at the dinner hour. After they had scooped at the cork with their jackknives one of them took a piece of twire, wound it around the neck twice, and then for two or three minutes sawed the bottle with it. Some water was then thrown on the heated glass, and it cracked instantly, enabling the expert to break off the neck with his hand in the most artistic manner.—St.

Coughing. "There is nothing so irritable to a cough as a cough." Constant coughing cough as a cough." Constant coughing a Repletance of Houth Fifth Avence, New York, N. Y. is precisely like scratching a wound on the outside of the body. So long as it is continued the wound will not heal. Let a person, when tempted to cough, draw a long breath and hold it until it warms and soothes every air cell, and benefit will soon be received from this process. The explanation simply is, the nitrogen the desire to cough and giving the throat and lungs a chance to heal.—Family

Whales, though they are mammals, are fitted to live like fishes in water. The true whales are of two kinds of families-the spermaceti whale, which has teeth in the lower jaw, and the whalebone whale, which has none. Of the first named, there are two species, the cachalot and the sperm, which, when full grown, measures from 70 to 80 feet. The capture of this animal is attended with greater danger than that of the whalebone or Greenland whale on account of its formidable teeth.— Philadelphia Press

There is a ready a demand for the unused and half barned carbons from the are lights. Since one has discovered that carbon is a cure for consumption, and it is a well known fact that men who work in carbon factories are singularly healthy. Just how the fragments of carbon are broken up and the particles inhaled does not appear, but people collect them a good deal and profess to derive benefit from their use. It has been claimed for years that a smoky atmosphere is a good one for a consumptive patient, although this has been denied by doctors again and again. The carbon theory may account for what some people believe to be nonsense and others an infallible theory. - St. Louis Globe-
